REACHED THEIR GOAL

Arrival of the Hawaiian Commissioners in Washington

SEEKING ADMISSION TO THE UNION.

Dr. Mott Smith, the Hawaiian Minister, Appointed as Representative of the Provisional Government—A Surprise to Minister Stevens.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The commissioners of the provisional government of Hawaii, who are charged with the duty of presenting to the government of the United States the proposition of annexing the islands to this country, reached Washington yesterday afternoon.

The hour of their arrival was too late in the day for them to meet any of the officials of this government, and the arrangement for their reception did not include an interview with any of them before this morning.

The commissioners received a number of representatives of the press at their rooms and talked freely and frankly of their situation. They brought with them copies of the Hawaiian papers of Wednesday, January 18, which contained full accounts of the proceedings in connection with the revolution which was accomplished on the previous day, the 17th, and the particulars of which have already been made public through interviews given by the gentlemen at San Francisco and various points en route to Washington.

The commissioners were asked in what shape their authority to act would be presented. Mr. Thurston, who is at the head of the commission, replied: "We have credentials from the president of the provisional government, Mr. Dole, and these will be presented to Secretary Foster at our meeting with him."

Mr. Thurston stated that the report from Minister Stevens of letters to this government was incorrect. Mr. Stevens, he said, sent a letter to the secretary of state, which they brought with them on the steamer Oahu, and which was forwarded by mail from San Francisco.

This letter to which Mr. Thurston referred was received at the state department yesterday morning, and contained one fact which has heretofore appeared in the dispatches on the subject and puts somewhat different aspect on Mr. Stevens' account of the revolution. It reported that the revolution was a complete surprise to the minister and to the commander of the Boston.

Mr. Thurston said he left Honolulu on the Boston early in January for the purpose of seeing the other officials with a view to settling the Hawaiian question. He stated that any trouble was impending. The Boston did not return to Honolulu until January 15, and the minister says he was very much astonished to find the government in a state of turmoil and excitement. The events of the next few days following the arrival of the Boston culminated, on the 17th, in the overthrow of Queen Liliuokalani.

Dr. Mott Smith, the Hawaiian minister, informed Secretary Foster yesterday of his appointment as representative of the provisional government of the islands to the United States, and of his acceptance thereof. He arranged with the secretary to receive his commissions at the state department this morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Smith does not expect to take part in the conference between the commissioners and the secretary, but as his commission is a general one, and these gentlemen are upon a special mission.

THE HAWAIIAN BANK SCANDAL.

Premier Glittell and Ex-Premier Dr. Mott Smith Impeached.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 4.—The pressure among the deputies for a parliamentary inquiry into the bank scandal was increased yesterday by confirmation of the report that Premier Glittell, the imprisoned governor of the bank, had made a statement implicating Premier Glittell and Ex-Premier Dr. Mott Smith in the scandal.

After a short but stormy debate the chamber decided to authorize the prosecution of Deputy Zurbey.

Suit Against Ex-Auditor of State Payee.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 4.—Attorney General Maloney began suit yesterday in the Sangamon county circuit court against Ex-Auditor of State Payee and his bondsmen, alleging irregularities in the conduct of his office, to compel which he is charged with having secured the bonds and papers belonging to the state records. A summons was served on the defendants yesterday.

The records, which he insists are his private papers, but he declined to surrender them at present. The republicans threaten to retaliate by bringing suit against the Auditor General, a democrat, for interest on the state funds.

EXPENSIVE FUNERALS.

What It Costs the People When One of Their Representatives Dies.

St. Louis, Feb. 4.—A local paper thus figures out the cost of the funeral of a representative who dies while congress is in session:

Two days of the time of both houses last week was lost because of the death of Senator Keane, of West Virginia, says the Pittsburgh Leader. It is very expensive to the people whose a member of congress dies during the session.

The daily expenses of a session amount to $2,000, and the two days that were lost on account of the death of Mr. Keane cost $4,000.

But, in addition to that, congress pays the expenses of the funeral. These expenses vary materially, ranging as high, in the case of Senator Keane, of California, as $25,000.

In the case of Senator Plumb, congress paid for transportation expenses amounting to over $1,000 more. But that is by no means all of the expense.

The report of the public printer, just issued from the government printing office, shows that the cost of printing the engravings delivered in congress on the late S. C. Cox, of New York, was $16,818, exclusive of the cost of the engravings themselves.

Then in addition, congress appropriates to the heirs of the deceased the remainder of his salary for the term, notwithstanding the fact that congress is not in session.

Figuring up these various amounts we have three days' time lost; one day for the funeral, one day for the death, second, a day for the funeral, and third, a day for the engravings.

This amounts to $81,000. If the printing of the engravings should amount to as much as in the case of Mr. Cox, that would bring the aggregate up to $97,818. Adding the funeral expenses and cost of distributing the engravings, and of making a steel engraving, the total would be $103,818.

Considering that there were fourteen deaths in one congress, some appropriation can be made for the cost of public money in this way.

And when it is considered that many important measures are practically defeated by the unnecessary waste of the government, the saving of this matter will become still more apparent.

MUST BE STAMPED OUT.

Gov. Hogg Restores His Determination to Suppress the Mafia.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 4.—Reports in different dailies in the state say that Gov. Hogg is only making a "bluff" at the punishment of the Mafia mob.

It is determined to punish those implicated. To that end he has sent additional instructions to the district attorney of Lamar county, in which he says:

"Either you and order or anarchy must prevail, and there can be no compromise or middle ground. Mob law in Tennessee must be stamped out. Any resistance needed will be promptly rendered."

In this section of the country the lynching of the negro is condemned as brutal and inhuman, and people are beginning to realize that the Mafia mob will probably result, as Gov. Hogg will make arrests by means of the militia if necessary.

Overlaid in Opposition to the Whiskey Trust.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 4.—The whiskey dealers and distillers convention, held in opposition to the whiskey trust, adjourned this day last evening after passing resolutions and adopting a platform under the title of the American Distillers' & Wholesalers' association.

J. B. Watson, of Louisville, was elected president, J. H. Hines, of Louisville, vice-president, and J. H. Hines, of Louisville, secretary.

These officials will select a board of control which will elect a secretary and treasurer.

Shot Her Mother.

NAVADA, Mo., Feb. 4.—A 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. J. Robinson, of Hoover, playfully picked up a revolver, pointing it at her mother, remarking: "I will shoot mamma." The weapon was discharged, the ball striking her head and fracturing her skull. Medical aid was summoned and the ball removed. She is in a precarious condition.

Receiver Wanted.

JOELIA, Mo.—Application has been made in the circuit court for the appointment of a receiver for the Home Savings and Loan association of St. Louis. It is based upon allegations of mismanagement and gross misfeasance, and is made by T. D. Wainwright, the former general manager. J. R. Hoff, of St. Louis, is president of the association.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY

An Awful Calamity in the Town of Urbana, O.

HORRIBLE DEATH IN A GAS EXPLOSION.

The Defense Opens in the McDonald Case—A Bill to Prevent the Wearing of Crinolines—The Little Rock Bank Forfeits.

An Awful Calamity.

URBANA, O., Feb. 4.—The greatest calamity that ever has occurred in this city happened here last night, when an awful explosion occurred in the home of Mr. John D. Shoafall, on East Church street.

By the explosion his daughter, a young woman 23 years of age, was killed. Mrs. Clark, aged 68 years, was seriously injured, and a few hours later Mrs. Shoafall was badly burned.

It was just 6:30 o'clock when the whole city was shaken as by an earthquake, and the shock was immediately followed by a roar of fire. The fireman went to work with a will and soon rescued Mr. Shoafall from his perilous position. Shoafall pointed out where the two women were buried, and in a short time they were rescued.

Mrs. Clark, the old lady, was first brought out, and then Miss Shoafall was discovered pinned between the timbers and was taken out. She was badly injured, her neck was broken by the heavy timbers falling across it, both eyes were literally torn from her head, while her body and face were a mass of cuts and bruises. She lingered about an hour before she died.

Mrs. Clark's collar bone was broken in addition to internal injuries, and she died later, about an hour after she was brought out.

The explosion was caused by gas from a broken main filling the house and lighting from a stove.

The McDonald Will Case.

NONAHVALLE, Ind., Feb. 4.—In the McDonald will case, yesterday the defense began the introduction of evidence. George B. Field and Mr. Isaacson, experts, pointed out peculiarities of certain letters in the typewriting machine on which the will had been written, and comparing it with other work on the same machine, found the same combinations of peculiarities, such as wavy alignment, imperfect letters, letters twisted to right or left, which gives individually to the work of a machine, and thought it impossible, if not impossible, to find the same combination of peculiarities on another machine.

Mr. Hurley was emphatic with Field and Isaacson that no letter-press copy of the contested will had been taken. E. J. C. Plunkett saw the will when produced, and knew Senator McDonald's signature, and thought those to the contested will were genuine. The deposition of James R. Franklin showed that he and Albert H. Bernhardt attended a will for Mr. McDonald in 1879, while that contest was dated in 1881.

A Bill to Prevent the Wearing of Crinolines in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 4.—Representative George M. Blain, of Minnesota, introduced a bill in the house yesterday designed to prevent the ladies of Minnesota from adopting crinolines next spring.

The bill is as follows: Section 1. Any person violating this act or any part thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25 for each offense, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days.

More Force on the First National Bank of Little Rock Given to Light.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 4.—The First national bank had brought to this notice yesterday $10,000 more paper than the bank's name as indicated, which does not appear on the books of the bank, thus increasing the total of such paper to $24,500.

The money Mr. Allen succeeded in getting from the bank direct and upon the credit of the bank already amounts to considerably over $70,000. Bank Examiner Galbraith will arrive to-day from Kansas City to take charge of the bank.

Have Agreed to Disagree.

THE HOUSE OF THE KANSAS LEGISLATURE WILL DIVIDE THE TIME.

TORREKA, Kan., Feb. 4.—All hope of settling the middle in the house has been abandoned, and the two bodies have settled down and agreed to divide the time on the floor from now to the close of the allotted time, the republicans meeting in the forenoon and the populists in the afternoon. This arrangement was agreed upon in the popular caucus Wednesday night, and the republicans accepted it last night without objection.

Only small bills as cannot be attached by the supreme court will for the present be passed, and at the close of the session appropriations for the expenses of the legislature and the state government, and the state institutions, will be adopted. Then they will adjourn and let the republicans do their worst. Should the new supreme court declare the law of the populists to be void and the governor call an extra session of the legislature the populists house will come back just the same and go through the form of re-passing the same laws. This is the programme as stated by a populist leader.

Final Deposits Received.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—The final deposits on the side bet of $5,000 depending on the outcome of the fight between Joe Gould and Ed Smith in New Orleans on March 3, were received by the stakeholder here yesterday from Madden and Quinn.

REACHED THEIR GOAL

Arrival of the Hawaiian Commissioners in Washington

SEEKING ADMISSION TO THE UNION.

Dr. Mott Smith, the Hawaiian Minister, Appointed as Representative of the Provisional Government—A Surprise to Minister Stevens.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The commissioners of the provisional government of Hawaii, who are charged with the duty of presenting to the government of the United States the proposition of annexing the islands to this country, reached Washington yesterday afternoon.

The hour of their arrival was too late in the day for them to meet any of the officials of this government, and the arrangements for their reception did not include an interview with any of them before this morning.

The commissioners received a number of representatives of the press at their rooms and talked freely and confidentially with them. They brought with them copies of the Hawaiian papers of Wednesday, January 13, which contained full accounts of the proceedings in connection with the revolution which was accomplished on the previous day, the 17th, and the particulars of which have already been made public through interviews given by the gentlemen at San Francisco and at various points on route to Washington.

The commissioners were asked in what shape their authority to act would be presented. Mr. Thurston, who is at the head of the commission, replied: "We have credentials from the president of the provisional government, Mr. Dole, and these will be presented to Secretary Foster at our meeting with him."

Mr. Thurston stated that the report from Honolulu that they were being barred from Minister Stevens' office by this government was incorrect. Mr. Stevens, he said, sent a letter to the secretary of state, which they brought with them on the steamer Claudine, and which was forwarded by mail from San Francisco.

This letter to which Mr. Thurston referred was received at the state department yesterday morning, and contained the fact which the dispatches on the subject and puts a somewhat different aspect on Mr. Stevens' actions than that previously reported, that the revolution was a complete surprise to the minister and to the commander of the station.

Mr. Stevens and he left Honolulu on the Boston early in January for a visit to some of the other islands with no idea that any trouble was impending. The Boston did not return to Honolulu till January 13, and the minister said he was very much astonished to find the government in a state of turmoil and excitement. The events of the next few days following the arrival of the Boston culminated on the 17th, in the dethronement of Queen Liliuokalani.

Dr. Mott Smith, the Hawaiian minister, informed Secretary Foster yesterday of his appointment as representative of the provisional government of the islands to the United States, and of his acceptance thereof. He arranged with the secretary to receive the commission at the state department this morning at 10 o'clock. Dr. Smith does not expect to take part in the conference between the commissioners and the secretary, inasmuch as his commission is a general one and these gentlemen are upon a special mission.

THE ROMAN BANK SCANDAL.

Premier Giolitti and Ex-Premier Di Rudini and Crispi Implicated.

Rome, Feb. 4.—The pressure among the deputies for a parliamentary inquiry into the bank scandal was increased yesterday by confirmation of the report that Signor Tangianga, the imprisoned governor of the bank of Rome, had made a statement implicating Premier Giolitti and Ex-Premier Di Rudini and Crispi. Immediately after the publication of the statement the president and read a letter from ex-Premier Crispi, who is confined to his bed. As soon as he recovered he would appear before the senate to present the statements of Tangianga's statement.

Signor Tangianga continued his speech amid the greatest confusion, and obliged that the National bank had paid annually a large sum of money to the secret-service fund. "A more utterly false statement could not be made in this house," exclaimed Premier Giolitti who was on his feet to reply before Tangianga could finish himself. The chamber said he and his colleagues in the ministry would resist to the last any attempt to authorize an investigation by a committee of deputies. The court of justice had ample power to deal with the matter in question, and there was no necessity of an extraordinary tribunal.

After a short but stormy debate the chamber decided to authorize the prosecution of Deputy Zerby.

Suit Against Ex-Auditor of State Payee Begun.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 4.—Attorney General Maloney began suit yesterday in the Sangamon county circuit court against ex-auditor of State Payee John H. Brown, alleging irregularities in the conduct of his office, to conceal which he is charged with having secreted the books and papers belonging to the state records. A summons was served on the defendant yesterday, and the records, which he insists are his private papers, he declined to surrender them at present. The republicans threaten to retaliate by bringing suit against ex-state Treasurer Wilson, for interest on the state funds.

FIFTY-SECOND CONGRESS.

(Second Session.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The senate met at 11 a. m., which is to be the hour of meeting for the remainder of the session.

Mr. Mitchell reported from the judiciary committee a bill to pay the award of the court of claims in French spoliation cases, and it was placed on the calendar.

Homes bill to ratify and confirm an agreement with the Indians in the case of the Indians, and appropriating $50,000 for that purpose, was taken from the calendar and passed, with amendments as follows:

Homes bill to protect settlement rights, where two or three persons settle upon the same tract of land, and the same tract is sold to one of them, was taken from the calendar and passed, with an amendment, and a conference called.

The question of the repeal of the Sherman act, or at least the suspension of the anti-trust act, was taken up by Mr. Tuller, who made the presentation of some portions of the subject to the senate. It was then referred to a committee of the whole, and was discussed by the members of the present session. He commented with some bitterness upon several of the amendments, and said that the character and position of the bill was such that it would be placed on such a basis.

Mr. Sherman stated that he did not move to take up the bill because he was not satisfied that there was a majority in its favor. And, finally, he stated that he would not move to take up the bill and pass it, but would wait until the next session.

EXPENSIVE FUNERALS.

What It Costs the People When One of Their Representatives Dies.

St. Louis, Feb. 4.—A local paper thus figures out the cost of the funeral of a representative who dies while congress is in session:

Two days of the time of both houses last week was lost because of the death of Senator Kenna, of West Virginia, says the Pittsburgh Leader. It is very expensive to the people when a member of congress dies during the session. The daily expenses of a session amount to $38,000, and the two days that were lost on account of the death of Mr. Kenna cost $76,000.

But, in addition to that, congress pays the expenses of the funeral. These expenses vary materially, running as high, in the case of Senator Hearst, of California, as $25,000.

In the case of Senator Platt, congress paid for transportation expenses amounting to over $1,000 more. But that is by no means all of the expense.

The report of the public printer, just issued from the government printing office, shows that merely the cost of printing the engrossed delivered in congress on the late S. S. Cox, of New York, was $10,512, exclusive of the cost of distribution. But a day was wasted when the engrossed were delivered.

Then, in addition, congress appropriates to the heirs of the deceased the remainder of his salary for the term, notwithstanding that another congressman is appointed who draws a salary.

Figuring up these various amounts we have three days' time lost; one when congress adjourns on the day of death, second, a day for the funeral, and third, a day for the engrossing.

This amounts to $84,000. If the printing of the engrossed should amount to as much as in the case of Mr. Cox, that would bring the aggregate up to $94,512.

Adding these expenses and cost of distributing the engrossed, and of making a steel engraving, which is always done, and then adding the remainder of the salary, which is always appropriated to the family, the total will not be less than $100,000 as the tax imposed on the people because a man dies while he is a member of congress.

Considering that there were four deaths in one congress, some apprehensions are had of the cost of distributing the engrossed, and of making a steel engraving, which is always done, and then adding the remainder of the salary, which is always appropriated to the family, the total will not be less than $100,000 as the tax imposed on the people because a man dies while he is a member of congress.

When it is considered that many important measures are practically defeated by this unnecessary waste of time, the pressing need of reform in this matter will become still more apparent.

MUST BE STAMPED OUT.

Gov. Hogg Reiterates His Determination to Publish the Paris Murders.

ASTORIA, Ore., Feb. 4.—Reports in different dailies in the city of Astoria that Gov. Hogg is only making a "bluff" at the punishment of the Paris mob. Gov. Hogg says he is determined to punish those implicated. To that end he has sent a letter to the attorney of the district attorney of Lamar county in which he says:

"Either law and order or anarchy must prevail, and there can be no compromise or middle ground. Mob law is being severely punished. Serious assistance needed will be promptly rendered."

In this section of the country the lynching of the negro is condemned as brutal and inhuman, and Paris people are being severely punished. Serious assistance needed will be promptly rendered."

Organized in Opposition to the Whiskey Trust.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 4.—The whiskey dealers and distillers convention, held in opposition to the whiskey trust, adjourned sine die last evening after completing a permanent organization under the title of the American Distillers & Whiskey Dealers' association. J. B. Wadsworth, of Louisville, was elected president, J. H. Holes, of Cleveland, first vice-president, and William H. Lee, of St. Louis, second vice-president. The bill is as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, or sell, or to offer for sale, or to have in his possession, or to have anything like thereunto within the limits of Minnesota.

Section 2. Any person violating this act or in any way assisting the violation of any provision of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25 for each offense and in default shall be imprisoned in county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days.

This arrangement was agreed upon in the popular assembly last night, and the republicans accepted it last night without objection.

THE NEWS OF THE DAY

An Awful Calamity in the Town of Urbana, O.

HORRIBLE DEATH IN A GAS EXPLOSION.

The Defense Opens in the McDonald Will Case—A Bill to Prevent the Wearing of Crinolines—The Little Rock Bank Forgeries.

An Awful Calamity.

URBANA, O., Feb. 4.—The greatest calamity that ever has occurred in this city happened here last night, when a awful explosion occurred in the home of Mr. John D. Shostall, on East Church street.

By the explosion his daughter, a young woman 33 years of age, was killed. Mrs. Clark, aged 66 years, was seriously injured and died a few hours later. Mrs. Shostall was badly burned.

It was just 5:30 o'clock when the whole city was shaken as by an earthquake, and the shock was immediately followed by the alarm of fire. The firemen went to work with a will and soon rescued Mr. Shostall from his perilous position. Shostall pointed out where the two women were buried, and in a short time they were rescued. Mrs. Clark, the old lady, was first brought out, and then Miss Shostall was discovered pinned between the timbers and was taken out. She was horribly mangled. Her neck was broken by the heavy timbers, and she was dead when she was taken out. Mrs. Clark's collar bone was broken in addition to internal injuries, and she also died later.

The explosion was caused by gas from a broken main filling the house and igniting from a stove.

The McDonald Will Case.

NONREVOLVING, Ind., Feb. 4.—In the McDonald will case yesterday the defense began the introduction of evidence. George B. Field and Mr. Isaac, experts, pointed out peculiarities of certain letters in the typewriting machine on which the will had been written, and comparing it with other work on the same machine, found the same combinations of peculiarities, such as want of alignment, imperfect letters, letters twisted to right or left, which gave individuality to the work of a machine, and thought it impossible, if not impossible, to find the same combination of peculiarities on another machine.

Mr. Hurley was emphatic with Field and Isaac that no letter was present in the contested will had been taken.

R. B. T. Pierce saw the will when probated, and knew Senator McDonald's signature, and thought those to the contested will were genuine. The deposition of James E. Franklin showed that he and Albert J. Berneridge attested a will for Mr. McDonald in 1879, while that in contest was dated in 1881.

A Bill to Prevent the Wearing of Crinolines in Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 4.—Representative George M. Elester, of Minneapolis, introduced a bill in the house yesterday designed to prevent the ladies of Minnesota from adopting crinolines next spring regardless of what the fashion may be. The bill is as follows:

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, or sell, or to offer for sale, or to have in his possession, or to have anything like thereunto within the limits of Minnesota.

Section 2. Any person violating this act or in any way assisting the violation of any provision of this act shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25 for each offense and in default shall be imprisoned in county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days.

OPEN THE FAIR ON SUNDAY.

The Legislature Goes on Record That Way—Business of the Session.

NOTES.

The World's Fair people in favor of an open fair on Sunday were decidedly on top yesterday in the house. The committee on the World's Fair reported the resolution petitioning congress to rescind its action closing the fair on Sunday and the adoption of the report was the occasion of considerable talk and much vote changing. The report was adopted and the resolutions were passed by a vote of 68 to 49.

The special committee appointed to investigate the Wann disaster asked for a leave of absence during the greater part of next week to carry on the investigation. The request resulted in a motion to discharge the committee and a lively debate followed. Sentiment, law, business rules and much was handled about indiscriminately. The motion to discharge was lost with a good margin, and the leave was granted.

The members of the committee of ladies working for woman's suffrage and who have been in Springfield for some time were especially active among the members. No converts have as yet been announced.

SENATE.

The senate met but few members in their places, and they might have played away. Senator Johnson moved to adjourn until Monday at 5 p. m. The motion was lost. A motion to adjourn until 2 o'clock Monday received the vote of one man, but as Senator Oppinger arrives in the city at noon, as presiding officer, he declared the motion carried.

NOW IT IS WHITE CHINA.

On Monday morning, Feb. 6th, we will commence a Special Sale of WHITE CHINA, and our entire line of WHITE CHINA for DECORATORS, as well as White Dinner Ware, will be sacrificed. It has been justly said of our White China Stock for Decorators, that it was the largest in the State—even larger than Chicago houses carried.

If you "paint" or do not "paint" you will be interested in this sale.

For the convenience of our patrons this sale, like all our Special Sales, will be placed in our main store room so that you will not be obliged to go to the up-stairs China Department to take a look at it.

We will sacrifice all white "Entree" Dishes, Vases, Jardinieres, Cake and Bread Plates, Sugars and Creamers, Bon Bon Dishes, Olive Dishes, Platters, Pin Trays, Boudoir Sets, and white Dinner Ware in open stock.

An early inspection will give you the best selection.

and a coat. Miller thought he ought to be put behind the bars, inasmuch as he had fallen through the door at Phil Blum's meat market and had done $3 damage to the glass, but Miller could not handle the case and the man. He called for help from among the twenty or thirty bystanders, but not one would respond. Finally Mr. May came to the rescue, and the barkeeper was taken to the calaboose. Parties who refuse to obey an officer when he calls for help are liable to arrest and prosecution.

In the office of Oversee Holman this forenoon quite a number of poor people called to receive their regular weekly allowance. A gentleman sitting in the office remarked that there was a man and his wife in a certain part of the city who ought to have help, but he knew that the man had too much spirit to come to the county for aid. He was a plasterer, he said, who was out of work, and had no fuel and nothing to eat. How they got along he couldn't tell. Mr. Holman got the man's name. He will probably investigate the case and personally see that the parties, if deserving, do not suffer.

Ten famous A. G. Fields' Minstrels will appear at the Grand next Tuesday night, Feb. 7.

Gave Away $2.50.

An ambitious traveling man from the southern part of the country gave away $2.50 yesterday afternoon at the St. Nicholas hotel, but being flash he didn't care for expenses. Looking out through the office window he saw the World's Fair, and he looked over the two-story sign which was a sign for him. He knew it was cold, but he thought he could stand it an hour or two. He went around for a cutter, and then he bundled up for the morning he was about to take. The cutter was stylish and the horse with the jingling bells was a beauty. The car was $2.50 per hour. Failing to induce any of his traveling friends to accompany him, he started out alone, fully intending to be gone an hour or two. Inside of 15 minutes the gentleman returned to the hotel, his face, red and hands tingling with cold. He was scarcely able to get out of the sleigh. He called to a porter to take the blasted sleigh back to the barn. He had had enough of sleighing to let him until after the World's Fair, and he looked over the two-story sign which was a sign for him. He called to a porter to take the blasted sleigh back to the barn. He had had enough of sleighing to let him until after the World's Fair, and he looked over the two-story sign which was a sign for him. He knew it was cold, but he thought he could stand it an hour or two. He went around for a cutter, and then he bundled up for the morning he was about to take. The cutter was stylish and the horse with the jingling bells was a beauty. The car was $2.50 per hour. Failing to induce any of his traveling friends to accompany him, he started out alone, fully intending to be gone an hour or two. Inside of 15 minutes the gentleman returned to the hotel, his face, red and hands tingling with cold. He was scarcely able to get out of the sleigh.
